RAILROAD CHARGES.

UNLAWFUL DISCRIMINATIONS

Delegates To-day-The Bill's Provis-tnte proposed by Mr. Gilkeson for House Bill No. 73 has already been indicated in the INTELLIGENCES. The original bill was Bill to prohibit unjust discriminations by railroad companies." Mr. Gilkeson sub-mitted the substitute to the Committee on mitted the substitute to the Committee on Railroads, which yesterday had the mat-ter under consideration.

Mr. Gilkeson's bill makes "unjust dis-crimination" a misdemeanor, punishable by a fine not to exceed $2,000 for each offense. The bill further provides that no railroad company shall charge one ship-per or receiver of freight more money for shipper or receiver, nor shall any railros alightrise in temperature, northerly winds, becoming variable.

FORTUNATELY for the Star Clothing Honse, its reputation is established in a shorter distance than is charged for the me carriage or transportion a greate stance which includes the shorter. An desimpany violating any of the provision of this act by its agent, officer or employe shall be deemed guilty of unjust discrim-nation and fined in the sum named.

THE OBJECT OF THE BILL. riminating rates on cattle shipped east, o which their constituents complain loudy, It is charged that it costs more to ship cattle to Baltimore from the railroad points most accessible to the people of the South Branch country than it does to ship from points further west, and also that a higher charge is made on live stock shipped east from Clarksburg than from Parkersburg. Aside from this the bill aims at the general practice of discrimination in railroad charges, of which there has been considerable complaint for years past. The bill introduced by Mr. Post was originally written by Hon. E. W. Wilson, when Speaker of the House, and presented in the House, but did not pass. Mr. Post again proposed it at the presentession. The bill and Mr. Gilkeson's substitute were argued before the House Committee on Railroads y esterday afternoon. Col. Hen Wilson, Mr. Gilkeson, Mr. Post and Col. White advocating the substitute, and J. W. Sinclair opposing it.

The arguments in layor of the bill were mainly fillustrations showing the alleged unjust and oppressive polley of railroads in special cases. Col. Wilson made a strong argument and an earnest appeal for relief.

MR. SINCLAR'S POINTS. which their constituents complain loudly It is charged that it costs more to ship cat

MIL SINCLAIR'S POINTS.

Mr. Sinclair opposed the bill on behalf of the Chesapeake & Ohio Raliroad Com-pany. He claimed that if this bill were to pass it would work gross injustice to this company. For instance, a large coal operator at a distance from the raliroad branch road to his mine, and in consideration of his large shipments in the course of a year the company gives him better rates than a smaller operator on the line of the road. If this is prohibited, the large operator is forced out of the market, owing to the greater expense he is at to reach shipping facilities. The case of the Lomore Iron Company was instanced. This company could not exist if it were not for the favorable shipping rates obtained from the company. The furnace of the company takes coal from

Its Work.

The sub-committee of the Legislative joint committee to which was referred the question of exemption of property from taxation, finished its work last night. From all of its labors the issue is a bill harmonizing the statutes with the Constitution as laid down by the Supreme Court in the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad company's tax suit. The bill will exempt from taxation only church and public property, named in the Constitution.

Another Satchel Highwayman.

Another case of hand-satchel robbing was reported to the police last evening. The victim this time was a yong terman woman employed by a Fifteenth street family. She was passing along Eoff street just below Twelfth, about 3 o'clock, when a man stepped out of an alley and jerking her hand satchel away, pushed her so that she almost fell. The satchel contained about $9, some letters and two valentines. There were other people in the street at the time, but the thief was so quick in his actions that no one had a chance to recognize him.

LAST NIGHT'S OPENING

Grand March-Big Attractions at the Island Rink-Rink Notes.

The Chapline Street Roller Skating Rink

was opened to the public last night and the event was one of no small moment modate no more. Every one was pleased with the building and the opening. The three powerful Seimen burners that are used and the other gas lights illuminated the handsome and tasty illuminated the handsome and tasty building superbly and the sensible seating arrangement made it comfortable for all. The skaters were charmed with the floor. Many voted it superior to any they had ever been on and others compared it to the Island rink's zurface. In the course of a day or two, after it has been thoroughly worked, it will be much better than it was last night. Those who rented the rink skates were charmed with them; they were found in perfect order and to skate easily.

The special attraction provided for the occasion was "The Midgets." Ethel and Edna Taber, of Providence, R. I., two cute little things aged 5 and 8 years. Their skating was loudly applauded and it deserved the recognition it received. The oldest one did some really wonderfal work for one of her years, and the little one was as cute as she could be. The management has made arrangements for them to appear at three more performances, to-night and to-morrew afternoon and night. One is not keeping pace with the craze unless they see these little people.

The grand march was a monster affair. It was led by Mr. Irwin Singleton and Miss Latura Cooper, assisted by Mr. John Riheldaffer and Miss Kattle Harden, of Steubenville. Fitty-four couples took part, and although the floor was encreached on by the spectators they managed to get along without a break. One or two new and very pretty figures were introduced by the leaders.

The ladies were particularly pleased with the arrangements made for them. Their parlor is handsomely carpeted and curtained, provided with stationery toilet stand with running water, and a maid is also in attendance.

Messrs. Rose & Entler were very much pleased with their opening. They propose making their place the popular resort of the city. The rink hereafter will be opened three times cach day, except on Sundays.

There was only one drawback tast night and that was the music. It was furnished by section of the Opera House brass band and was exacreble. It consisted mainly of bass drum, cymbals and horns out of tune. Kramer's orchestra will furnish good music to-day. The management was not able to secure any other music for last night.

A novelty with some rinks is to give with each admission ticket sold during a week a chance to draw a pair of nickle-plated club skates, of any make. The drawings take place Saturday evenings. The association formed for the purpose of building a rink in North Wheeling on the old Sweeney property will push forward with all speed. It is said that the intention is, to provide a false aised floor, so that the place may be used when desired for a public hall.
